OUTLINES.

In New York yesterday, Josephine Terranova, charged with the murder of her uncle and aunt, told a strange story of a voice that told her to kill, relating treatment by her relatives that drove her to desperation and murder——In Iowa yesterday, Judge McPherson overruled the Burlington Railway's contention that the government has no jurisdiction over export rates, and that road and others must stand trial for giving or receiving rebates——In the Senate yesterday the question of the expulsion of Senator Burton was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections——Democratic Leader Williams continued filibuster tactics in the House yesterday to froce the Republicans to take up the Statehood bill; Mr. Williams sharply referred to Speaker Cannon's picturesque, but unconstitutional manner of counting a quorum——Congressman Randell, of Texas, scathingly denounced the Stand Pat Republican machine in the House yesterday, charging it with hypocrisy and ignoring the people's interest——A Republican from Wisconsin, in the House, delivered a notable speech on the Hepburn bill, declaring that the court review amendment made it a piece of valueless legislation and that the people would call to account those responsible for it——At Charlotte yesterday 15,000 people witnessed the features of the Mecklenburg celebration, and a speech was delivered by Gov. Glenn ——The Southern Presbyterian General Assembly, at Greenville yesterday, received majority and minority reports on closer union between Presbyterian denominations——New York markets: Money on call steady 3 to 3 1-4, ruling 3 1-4, closing bid 3, offered at 3 1-2; Spot cotton quiet 11.90; flour dull; wheat barely steady, No. 2 red 93 nominal elevator; corn easy, No. 2 57 nominal elevator; oats 39 to 39 1-2; turpentine firm 61 to 61 1-2; rosin firm, strained, common to good 4.25 to 4.35.

All amendments to the railroad rate bill looked alike to President Roosevelt.

A Wilmington negro is in jail for stealing a keg of beer. He ought have had better luck.

We know now what it takes to warm up ice President Fairbanks. He's all right when he gets among the Methodists.

"Should men make it an invariable rule to give up to women?" asks a French writer. Well, men could vary the rule a little by giving in to 'em.

Republican and Democratic Congressmen experience no difficulty in getting together on free seeds. Seeds are good things to strew along the political fence rows.

Now that the Senatorial campaign in Tennessee is over, the Democrats will have a campaign with a view to getting together so the Republicans can't win the election in November.

The Republicans are counting on carrying Tennessee because the Democrats called each other names during a red-hot fight over the United States Senatorship. Talk like that is liable to scare the Tennessee Democrats into giving the biggest majority in the history of the party next November.

The Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch says: "Child labor is by no means necessary for the protection of our infant industries." At the same time it must be remembered that what the wailing infant wears is taxed for the benefit of the infant industries.

The editor of the Greensboro Industrial News (Republican) keeps on fishing around to find out what a Democrat is. He is the fellow who has an office that a Republican wants. All Democrats who have offices look alike to the Republican who is office hungry.

Just because of the row between President Roosevelt, Chandler, Tillman, Bailey et al., somebody had to take advantage of the opportunity to remark points of similarity between Theodore Roosevelt and George Washington. The Baltimore Sun at once acknowledges the similarity in the fact that Washington had a hatchet and Roosevelt has a big stick.

A dispatch from Franklin, Nebraska, on Monday, stated that for forty-five minutes hailstones as large as baseballs rained down, crashing through roofs, smashing windows, killing stock and destroying crops. With the bowels of the earth bombarding us through the volcanoes, shaking us with house-leveling and death-dealing earthquakes, and the heavens pelting the earth's surface with chunks of ice we seem to be treading over and under danger.

WATER WORKS SUITS

Willard Bag and Manufacturing Company Institutes Damage Proceedings

SUMMONS FILED YESTERDAY

Alleging Insufficient Pressure and Supply, Ask for Damage in Destruction of Its Property in Dock Street Fire.

Another suit was instituted yesterday against the Clarendon Water Works Company for the recovery of damages by reason of the destruction of property in the Front and Dock streets fire of last February, an insufficiency of water supply and pressure being the grounds of action in the proceedings. This time the plaintiff is the Willard Bag and Manufacturing Company, which lost its factory in the conflagration and although the complaint has not been filed, it is understood that between $12,000 and $15,000 will be asked, the amount representing the difference between the actual value of the property lost in the fire and the amount of insurance thereon.

The suit is brought by the law firm of Meares & Ruark, who are the attorneys for the plaintiff in a similar suit brought against the company by Gaston D. Phares & Co., for an alleged loss of $2,000 in furniture, uninsured and destroyed in the same fire. The complaint in the latter suit was filed yesterday simultaneously with the institution of the suit in the other case for which it is understood the allegations will be about the same.

The complaint in the Phares suit sets forth that the city had a contract with J. A. Cloud, Edwin E. Burriss and associates, afterwards succeeded by the Clarendon Water Works Company, by which it was agreed that they would furnish at all times the water necessary for use by the city, and a sufficient pressure to throw from any fire hydrants at one and the same time, through a one-inch nozzel, five streams of water to an average of 100 feet heighth. A copy of this contract is attached to the complaint and made a part thereof. In addition to the amount of money named in the contract for this service, it is also pointed out that as an additional compensation, certain valuable and exclusive franchises, rights and privileges were given which entail an obligation upon the part of the company, which has been flagrantly violated; that on the night of the fire in which plaintiff's property was destroyed, a proper alarm was given and the firemen responded with all the necessary apparatus and appliances to have saved the property had the necessary water and pressure been supplied by the defendant company as required under the contract.

The suit, when it comes up for trial at the July term will be vigorously fought on both sides as it is understood others are to follow in case these are determined favorably to the property owners. Ultimately it is said to be the purpose of the owners to bring suit for the burning of the old Industrial Works property in the Southern part of the city, which was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago together with the plant of the American Textile and Coloring Company. The building was insured for only a small amount of its valuation, and it is said, that suit will be brought for the difference between the insurance and the amount of the value of the property.

To defend these suits the Water Works Company has quite an array of fine legal talent in Messrs. Davis & Davis, Jno. D. Bellamy & Son., Bellamy & Bellamy and Herbert McClammy, Esq.

MANY BEFORE THE MAYOR

Several Went to Superior Court and to Roads From Police Tribunal Yesterday—One Discharged.

The Superior Court and the forward movement for better public roads reaped a considerable harvest from the sitting of the police tribunal yesterday. Mayor Waddell had returned from Norfolk and he was greeted by a "full house," so to speak. All the defendants were colored.

Fred Fillyaw, the negro arrested by Officer W. M. Harris at Eighth and Orange streets for offering an insult to the wife of Julius Murray, the well known colored barber, threatening her with a knife, was bound over to Superior Court and, in default of $100 bond in each of two cases for an assault with a deadly weapon and carrying a concealed weapon, was sent to jail. The latter charge grew out of the fact of his having two razors on his person when arrested by Officer Harris.

Mary Barnhill, a notorious colored woman, charged with being drunk and disorderly at Fourth and Brunswick, was given 30 days on the farm.

Robert Howe, the negro charged with being drunk and disorderly at Front street market house Saturday night and resisting Capt. T. H. Johnson, the clerk who went to arrest him, was given 30 days on the roads.

Joe Hill, colored, charged with being drunk and cursing in the presence of ladies and gentlemen walking near Front and Market streets early Monday night, was also given 30 days on the rock pile. The arrest was by Officer E. Piner.

Joseph Maloid, a negro arrested by Officer Alex Wells on a charge of carrying a "gun" for another negro at Fourth and Bladen streets was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., and was discharged upon the representation that the defendant was a cripple and the negro for which he was gunning, a big, strapping fellow, had threatened his life.

Willie Sanders, a third of the colored youngters rounded up by Officer Leon George for stealing brasses from the Atlantic Coast Line, was sent over to Superior Court and in default of bond, went to jail.

Fred Moore, a colored vagrant sent in from near Front and Chestnut, was given 10 days on the roads and an admonition to "move on" when his time is up.

BRIGADE BAZAAR OPENING

Brilliant Affair Will Be Inaugurated at Armory This Evening—Some Features of the Week.

The elaborate bazaar to be given three nights this week at the armory of the Boys' Brigade will have a brilliant inauguration this evening at 8 o'clock and if the weather continues good and all other conditions remain favorable, it will be a magnificent success. The ladies have gone to much trouble to make the bazaar equal to any ever given under similar auspices and it is hoped that friends of the Brigade will show a proper appreciation of these efforts by a large attendance upon each and every night of the festival.

The Brigade armory has been prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and flags of all nations and to-day workmen will begin installing the four handsome booths from which refreshments wil be served by the ladies during the week. The decorations and lighting effects will be a feature and everyone will be pleased with the spectacular side of the affair. Mrs. Cuthbert Martin is general chairman of the committees in charge and for the opening night has prepared an exceedingly attractive programme. The music this evening will be in charge of Miss Anna Sprunt, and a number of favorite local vocalists will be heard. At 9 o'clock, the special feature of the evening will be given in a spectacular tambourine drill by girls from Immanuel Presbyterian church in charge of Miss Jessie Hall. The young ladies who will take part in this feature have been well trained and will give a drill that will be found very pretty and attractive.

To-morrow night the special feature will be an exhibition drill by the Wilmington Light Infantry and on Friday night ceremonies attending the installation of the Junior Brigade. Friday afternoon will be "Children's Day" and a number of features will be put on to please the little folks.

The Bazaar is destined to be a brilliant affair and the friends of the Brigade and the public in general are cordially invited.

Freak Growth of Roses.

A representative of the Star was shown yesterday an unusual growth which may be termed a twin stalk of a LeMarque rose bush. On the twin stalk are 31 buds and five beautiful roses in full bloom. The remarkable growth was from the Oakmont greenhouses of Miss Lucy Moore, at Fifteenth and Market streets.

SEASHORE OPEN 6TH.

Favorite Hotel of Many Will Receive Guests on and After That Date

OUTLOOK IS PROMISING

Manager Hinton Announces Staff of Help at Popular Hostelry on Wrightsville Bach—Many Letters Being Received.

Manager Jos. H. Hinton is enthusiastic over the prospects for the biggest season on record at the Seashore Hotel this Summer. As officially announced in an advertisement elsewhere in to-day's paper, the opening will be on June 6th, and already the evidences are multiplying that the hotel will be filled with guests almost from the very start. A reporter was shown last night as many as a hundred letters from prominent people in a dozen different States, asking for the reservation of rooms, whle other requests are arriving on every mail. The fame of the Seashore Hotel and Wrightsville Beach has spread wonderfully fast and the tide seems to be setting in towards that popular resort at a rapid rate. As an evidence of the popularity of the management of the hotel, six Wilmington families who were at the Seashore last season, have already applied for rooms upon the opening of the house in June. Many of the out-of-town requests also come from guests who were there last Summer.

The hotel has been put in first class condition all over, handsomely repainted and presents a new and decidedly attractive appearance. Mr. Hinton says the hotel is now in better shape to provide comfort for guests than ever before. He has engaged a competent and popular staff of assistants and everything will move along smoothly from the opening. Mr. Edgar L. Hinton will give all his time to the hotel this season in the capacity of cashier and assistant manager. The amusement pavilion on the west side of the hotel will be in charge of Mr. R. H. Gregory, of Rockingham. Mr. Julian R. Clements, than whom there is no more popular young hotel man in the State, will be chief clerk; Mr. Will Pennington, of Norfolk, will be day clerk, and Mr. M. L. Harnett, with the Central Hotel, in Charlotte for a number of years, will be night clerk. The steward will be Mr. J. A. Boyett, of Atlanta, for many years with the Riggs' House in Washington. He has already arrived and is getting acquainted with his surroundings. The cuisine of the hotel will be kept up to its high standard in his hands. Mr. Louis Keen will be in charge of the bath houses and a competent life saver has been engaged for this important work. It is a notable fact that during the seven years Mr. Hinton has had charge of the Seashore Hotel there has never been a drowning accident in the surf there, the beach being especially safe and the care of all being looked after continuously,

Prof. Weber's orchestra has been engaged for another season and comes June 1st, from the magnificent Gayosa Hotel, of Memphis. The orchestra will play for the usual mid-week and week-end dances that proved so popular last year.

The dining room force will be in charge of the Chesterfieldian Wm. D. Polite and most of the help will come from the big Winter hotels South.

Every department of the big hotel is in competent hands and from present indications only competent people will be adequate to care for the large crowds that are coming.

BEFORE JUSTICE BORNEMANN.

Colored Man of Some Prominence Taxed With Costs.

Simon Richardson, a colored man of some prominence, was the central figure in a rather interesting trial before Justice Bornemann yesterday. Day before yesterday, Simon was before the court on a charge of beating a colored woman named Julia Sumter, and the injury was of such a serious nature that the defendant was required to give bond for the Superior Court. As a matter of retaliation, it is alleged, Simon had the woman arrested for disorderly conduct and employed Woodus Kellum, Esq., to prosecute the case. The Sumter woman and her friends were in court and disproved the charge of any disorder on her part. Thereupon Simon was taxed with the costs of the prosecution from which his counsel took an appeal.

AS TO SHERIFFS' COMMISSION

Important Decision by State Supreme Court Yesterday in Test Case from New Hanover County.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 22.—Opinions in sixteen appeals were delivered this evening by the Supreme Court and all arguments for the term had been completed during the day. There remains only for the several justices to write and file the remaining opinions assigned to them and then will follow final adjournment for the term, probably the latter part of this week or certainly the first of next week.

The Supreme Court, Justice Connor writing the opinion, sustains New Hanover Superior Court in its ruling for the plaintiff in the case of State and New Hanover Commissioners vs. F. H. Stedman, sheriff. The rule was whether or not Sections 92 and 91 of Chapter 390, Act of 1905, are in conflict, in that while the first section fixes the commissions of sheriffs at 5 per cent. on the first $50,000 and 2 1-2 per cent. on taxes collected in excess of that amount, the next section directs the auditor in settlement with sheriffs to deduct 5 per cent. on the whole amount; also that the rate of commissions cannot be reduced during the term of office of the sheriff, the office being constitutional and not statutory. The court holds that if it is conceded that there is conflict between the two sections and that both stand as written, there will be left in the hands of the sheriff an excess of commissions under Section 92 that could not be applied to his own use, but would be a public fund left on his hands.

The court holds that the regulation of fees is within the power of the Legislature; that the office of sheriff is constitutional as contended by plaintiff in this case, but that the fees are statutory. Sheriff Stedman had refused in a friendly suit to settle for $135,000 taxes collected except on the basis of 5 per cent. on the whole amount whereas the commissioners contended that settlement must be 5 per cent. on $50,000 and 2 1-2 per cent. on all in excess of that amount. The Sheriffs of quite a number of counties in the State were interested in the outcome of Sheriff Stedman's test case.

TRUCK SUFFERS BY DROUGHT

Minimum of Rainfall During May—Irish Potatoes, Cabbage, Beans and Beets Are Being Cut Off.

The drought in this immediate section and all over the State, for that matter, is becoming quite serious for vegetable growers. There is great complaint here from the truckers, many of whom are just beginning to make shipments of several varieties of vegetables to the Northern markets. There has been no rain of consequence in this section for six weeks and the ground is the dryest known in a long time. All told thus far there has been less than two inches of rain fall during the month of May, while April was the dryest month ever known. With the prevailing high winds yesterday, the streets were a cloud of dust nearly all day, and it was impossible to shopkeepers to keep their stocks from damage except by closing the doors.

The damage to truck and vegetable crops is largely to Irish potatoes, which require much moisture and which are already set back 25 to 30 per cent., cabbage, which are cut off nearly half, beans, which are just now maturing and which are burning up on light lands and beets, which are now being pulled for shipments. A few truckers have facilities for irrigation on the more model farms about Wilmington, but the effect of the drought is even apparent where artificial methods are employed.

A northeast storm was predicted by the Weather Bureau yesterday and the indications for rain are good. It would come as a blessed relief not only to the truck growers, who are suffering a financial loss, but, also to the general public which is inconvenienced no little by the dust and dryness of the atmosphere.

Aldermen Thursday Night.

Board of Aldermen will hold a special meeting to-morrow night for the purpose of passing formally upon the license tax ordinance as previously agreed upon in conference and for the purpose of taking up such other matters as may properly come before the meeting. One of these will be the question of allowing a spur track to be laid at the rear of the warehouses of C. C. Covington & Co., on the wharf. Some time ago permission was granted to lay a second track there. Now a third is wanted.

SHOT HER HUSBAND

Domestic Row in Colored Household Led to Serious Shooting Last Night

RED CROSS STREET AFFAIR

Woman In Jail, Her Consort In Hospital With Dangerous Wound in His Breast—General Fight Had Ensued.

Because he continued to abuse, threaten and to beat her, Rebecca Donaldson, according to her own story last night, drew a pistol and shot down her husband, Charles Donaldson, colored, who is in the hospital with a dangerous wound in his breast. The Donaldsons came here from South Carolina some time ago and live on Red Cross street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, just back of the hospital. Both appear to be respectable colored people of the better class, although their domestic troubles have frequently found their way into the magistrate courts, the husband having several times been before Justice Furlong on a charge of maltreating his wife. Upon the last trial, Justice Furlong suspended judgment upon both upon their promise to break up housekeeping and separate. They seemed, for some reason, to have disregarded the order of the magistrate for on yesterday the woman said her husband threatened her and last night when he came home, he started another quarrel which finally ended in his slapping her down. He threatened further violence, she said, when she ran into a room, occupied by a boarder at the house, and when he broke in after her, she took an Iver Johnson pistol from the mantel piece and shot him. The ball entered the left breast and ranged dangerously near the heart, though it was stated at the hospital to which he was soon afterwards removed, that it was not thought the wound would be fatal, the ball having previously passed through a thick coat, vest and heavy underclothes.

The woman, believing that she had killed her husband, went to the home of Justice Furlong and gave herself up, telling the story about as related above. A warrant was made out against her and she was later committed to jail by Constable Savage for trial as soon as the wounded man is able to appear against her if, indeed, the wounds do not prove fatal. The shooting caused great excitement among the colored population in the vicinity, a majority of them taking the part of the woman.

BOY'S PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Member of Sunday School Excursion Party Injured at Southport.

Hermann Woodard, the little 10-year-old son of Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Woodard, of this city, had his foot painfully fractured while on the First Presbyterian Sunday School excursion to Southport yesterday. The little fellow and a number of companions were playing with a small hand car on a miniature railroad track used by the Wilmington, Southport and Little River Company in transferring freight from the steamer wharf to a warehouse some distance up from the river. While the car was being pushed to and fro on the track, young Woodard's foot was caught in some way and turned directly back, causing the fracture of a number of bones in the foot. The little fellow was given attention by a Southport physician and was brought home on the steamer Sea Gate with the other excursion party, arriving at 6 o'clock. The little folks on the excursion had a delightful day with the exception of regret at the accident to their young companion. The boy was carried to the home of his parents and was reported to be resting very well last night.

LOCAL PORT PARAGRAPHS.

Vessels Arrive Yesterday—Molasses Schooner Discharged.

The schooners C. C. Lister, Capt. Moore, and Glad Tidings, Capt. Yeaton, both from New York, arrived yesterday and were towed up last night. Both will report to C. D. Maffitt.

The four-masted schooner Augustus Welt, seventeen days out from Port Tampa to Baltimore, arrived off the bar yesterday and asked to be reported all well. She is lumber laden and has been delayed on account of strong winds.

The British schooner Rhoda, Capt. Manthorn, has completed discharging cargo of molasses from Barbadoes for C. C. Covington & Co., at this port, and cleared yesterday for Portland, N. S., where she will receive cargo for a South American port.

THE CONSUMER PAYS THE FREIGHT.

Republicans ought to see to it that papers like the Boston Commercial Bulletin do not put their foot in it by letting the people know that they pay the tariff instead of the European, and that when there is a knock-off on freight charges on goods to be exported from this country to foreign countries, it is the European who gets the benefit of the reduction in freight and not the people of America. The Commercial Bulletin a few days ago contained this thoughtful but "thoughtless" editorial:

"In a recent address at Prospect Union, Edward Kemble, well known in commercial circles in this city, called attention to a phase of the Railway Rate question that even the Boston Chamber of Commerce appeared to overlook during its fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission last year to secure the removal of the port differentials on merchandise for export. The phase of the matter to which Mr. Kemble refers is the rate charged on merchandise intended, not for export, but for local consumption by which he means New England consumption generally. These rates, he maintains, are of far more vital interest to the welfare of Boston and New England than are the tariffs on goods to be exported. Any reduction in the latter primarily benefits the merchants in the interior or in Europe and the foreign steamship lines. A change in the other rates, however, immediately and directly affects the real interests of this locality as a distributing market. Advance such rates far enough and the result is bound to be a strangulation of the wholesale distributing business. It is evident, therefore, that the merchants, jobbers and exporters of Boston should evince the liveliest concern in these rates on goods for domestic consumption, and, in the event that they are unjust, should take more energetic steps to have them corrected than if the injustice resided merely in the rates on exports.

"Now, according to Mr. Kemble, the railroads upon which Boston depends for connection with the rest of the country have insisted on charging 2 cents more per 100 pounds on sixth-class merchandise hauled to Boston for local consumption than on the same class of goods hauled to New York, although the same railroads have found it profitable to give Boston the same rates as New York on goods to be exported. The result of this discrimination is that, on the great products of the United States like wheat, flour, maize, packed provisions, cotton, etc., Boston is obliged to pay a tariff of 22 cents per hundredweight, as compared with 20 cents to New York.

"In defence of such a situation it is of little avail to point to the fact that the haul from Chicago to Boston over the Boston and Albany is 56 miles longer than that to New York; for this element of distance had been voluntarily ignored by the railroads in making the New York rate to Boston on exports. Moreover, the situation thus created is in direct conflict with the interstate commerce law, which provides that no railroad engaged in interstate commerce shall charge one person more than another for the same service."

The Commercial Bulletin goes on and quotes this from Mr. Kemble's address: "On the merchandise hauled to Massachusetts and other parts of New England subject to it, this tax of 2 cents per 100 pounds, now in force on merchandise for local distribution, probably amounts to about $2,000,000 per year * * * and it is quite enough to keep Boston closed as a wholesale market.' Consequently, no stocks seeking sale could be found in Boston, and as no port can become a port for export business unless there are stocks of merchandise there to draw from 'every exporter,' declares Mr. Kemble, 'was driven out, and Boston became what it is today—a retail market for consumptive distribution only; and so far as the natural products of the country are concerned, it will never be anything else under the existing system of railroad tariffs." Between the Commercial Bulletin and Mr. Kemble, it is made plain that higher freights from interior points to Boston destroys Boston's wholesale business in the home territory and also practically knocks out Boston's export business because the freight discrimination from interior points keeps away merchandise and commodities upon which she might build up an export business. The system not only does not build up Boston's export business but is preventing Boston from becoming a flourishing distributing point for New England. The Commercial Bulletin shows what a great injustice it is to hamper that city's trade, by remarking that "Boston is the centre of of the wealthiest and best purchasing community in the United States, fuly one twentieth of the wealth of the country being located within 50 miles of the State House." Yet the discrimination against Boston cuts that city out of those great oportunities. It should also be borne in mind that within fifty miles of Boston's State House resides one-thirtieth of the population of the United States and within an hour's ride of the Masachusetts city there are 3,000,000 population.

Boston is now the largest market in the United States for hides, leather, boots, shoes and wool, but if Boston wasn't the producer of these products, to a large extent, she could not compete with New York because of the discrimination in freights. Boston has every reason to kick against paying the freight. The system drives Boston's wholesale trade to New York, and that is where the shoe pinches.

BLACKBURN IS BITTER.

Last week the Salisbury Post contained an interview with United States Circuit Court Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, of Asheville, who had just returned from Washington where he refused to shake hands with Congressman E. S. Blackburn whom he met at the Department of Justice. Judge Pritchard told the Post of the Washington incident and confirmed the Washington dispatches about it. Concerning what Judge Pritchard says, Mr. Thos. J. Pence, Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, wired his paper on Monday night from Washington:

"Representative Blackburn returned to the city today from North Carolina, and he took a shot at Judge Pritchard, who was interviewed by a Salisbury paper which declared that he makes no secret of the fact that he dislikes the congressman. There is no mistaking the fact Mr. Blackburn does not conceal his feeling of dislike for the justice. The Congressman made this plain today. In hiting back at the judge, he took occasion to refer indirectly to the charge that he (Pritchard) practiced before the departments while a Senator and leaves the plain intimation that he was sheltered by the statute of limitations. Mr. Blackburn said in referring to Judge Pritchard's comment in Salisbury with reference to him:

"I do not care to discuss the matter. If the judge finds comfort in making the incident the subject of comment, it is a matter of utmost indifference to me. I am not a judge upon the bench, but am content to know that I have not violated the laws of my land, nor have I plead ignorance of the law or taken shelter behind the statute of limitation."

"Mr. Blackburn, who made a trip to the eastern part of the State, told his friends that he received many pledges of support from eastern Republicans in his fight to capture the State Republican organization. He declares that the insurgents will have twice as many delegates as the organization."

The Charlotte Observer's Washington correspondent sent this on Monday night:

"Representative Blackburn has returned from Craven county, where he went to speak on the occasion of a school commencement at Dover. It is apparent that Mr. Blackburn is viewing the political outlook without alarm, in so far as the approaching convention of his party is concerned. His friends contend that the western counties generally will be with him in the chairmanship contest, while the east will be divided."

It will be observed that the fight between Blackburn and the Republican organization is to be kept up till the Republican State Convention meets, and that the Blackburn-Pritchard incident will figure in it to a considerable extent, embittering the factions to a greater extent than ever.

EASTERN CAROLINA GREAT.

Few people realize what a splendid country eastern North Carolina is. It is a terra incognito to many North Carolinians and it is a revelation to those who take a trip over it and see the country for themselves. It is being opened up by railroads, and in a few years there will be a marvelous development that will attract thousands to as fine and fertile a region as there is in America.

We are reminded to say what we have because of some observations made by Prof. Frank Gannon, who is the head of a new railroad system that is interested in the development of eastern Carolina. We take this from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer:

"Mr. Frank S. Gannon ,the president of the new Norfolk and Southern Railroad system, spent Sunday morning in Raleigh and left for Norfolk that night. He spent the greater part of last week in company with Mr. Chas. U. Harris, driving over the new lines or road between New Bern and Washington and via Wilson to Raleigh. Mr. Gannon was more pleased than ever with the entire situation.

"'I thought I had some conception before of the advantages of this splendid country,' said Mr. Gannon, 'but I find after more extended investigation that my former ideas were mere shadows of the substance itself. The farms and fertile farm lands, the trucking lands, the timber forests, the beautiful streams, the granite deposits, the splendid rural homes, the intelligent and industrious people, all make up a section of country unlimited in its possibilities, and you may just watch it grow and develop. Yes, it was a good long drive, but I have enjoyed every mile of it. I have taken notes as we drove along, and I have enough from which to preach a dozen great industrial sermons.'

"Mr. Gannon was manifestly impressed with his week's experiences and observations. Mr. Gannon is a genius of railroad construction and management and his judgment is in line with the best thought now manifested in Southern development."

Mr. Gaanon had an interesting trip but he will find that he only partially saw the country and yet has to learn the wonderful resources of the coast counties of the best State in the Union.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Why not blame it on Loeb? Make him earn his salary!—New York Herald.

—The Pine and the Palm wave together when Chandler and Tillman join forces.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

—"Why not try Marion Butler?" remarks the Charlotte Observer. What is the charge this time?—Raleigh Times.

—It begins to dawn on the country that President Roosevelt is possibly the victim of fool friends.—Philadelphia Record.

—Sometimes senility has its uses. You don't find Platt or Depew mixed up in this row with Roosevelt.—New York American.

—Correspondents are invited to make suggestions as to where Senator Tillman will break out next.—Greensboro Industrial News (Rep.)

—Up to a few days since twenty-three Democratic county meetings in Missouri had "Declared for Bryan." Where is Missouri's favorite son and growing statesman, Hon. Joseph W Folk?—Macon Telegraph.

—Developments in Washington continue to suport the contention that all communications between some people and others should be in indelible ink.—Indianapolis News.

—The people of the State are wondering who will succeed Thomas S. Rollins as chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee. Some one said to Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., recently that the judge was the man for the place. To this Judge Bynum replied, "I would as soon be in h—— without claws as to be mixed up in such a crowd." Next!—Lumberton Robesonian.

—"Bill" Chandler will go down into history as the man with the diary. It served him a good purpose in his controversy with the President about who told the story in the railroad rate affair. We wish he would turn back now and publish the memoranda he made when he was helping his party to steal the electoral vote of Florida in 1877. If he set down all that he did at that time, his diary must possess some secrets of very large historic interest.—Charleston News and Courier.

—The decision of the Supreme Court of North Carolina holding that funds of the Royal Arcanum could not be attached in this State in a case arising out of the increase in the assessment of the order really leaves the complainants without further recourse, since the Supreme Court of Massachusetts only a few days later rendered a decision on the merits squarely upholding the increase in the rate.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Possibly it was left to the Southern Methodists and to Birmingham to show that after all Vice-President Fairbanks isn't such an impossibility. He seems to have succeeded in a rather significant manner in impressing himself favorably on the Birmingham conference and by the utterance of sentiments strongly indicative toward the "broad brotherhood of man," revealed a phase of character hitherto if suspected at all badly confused with his political propensities. Mr. Fairbanks is a presidential figure to be reckoned on and his southern trip hasn't hurt him a bit.—Chattanooga Times.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

The Charlotte Observer estimates that 20,000 visitors were in that city to take in the celebration of the 131st anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The celebration began Monday and will conclude today (Wednesday).

—Judge Purnell was at his office in Raleigh on Monday for the first time in about a week, having been quite sick. Next week the term of court begins. It is said there are over 200 moonshine cases on the docket, about 10 per cent. being negroes.

—The Governor on Monday received a requisition from the Governor of Illinois for William R. Thacker, who is charged with felonious assault on a girl 13 years of age in that State, who is now in jail at Winston-Salem. Sheriff T. W. Brince has come as as agent of Illinois to take Thacker there for trial.

—Insurance Commissioner James R. Young has returned to Raleigh from Nashville, Tenn., where he addressed a very remarkable gathering of 200 representatives of the boards of trade of the entire State, these having met to secure better fire insurance. He made a speech which made so great an impression that the resolutions adopted asking the Legislature to amend the insurance laws are entirely along the line of the North Carolina law.

—Forest fires are again raging fiercely on the north side of the Neuse and the people of Bridgeton are alarmed lest the flames destroy their village. The fire is located along the line of the Pamlico, Oriental and Western Railway. On Sunday New Bern was filled with a great quantity of smoke and ashes from the fire. The fire is caused by the dry weather and has resulted in much damage.

—Wake Forest Special, May 21: A son of Mr. Neal Bragg, who lives near Pope's church, Granville county, was drowned in Moore's mill pond, five miles southeast of here Saturday afternoon. Young Bragg was about 18 years old. It seems that he and friends had been seining nearly all day. Young Bragg was in a boat when a strong wind capsized the boat, and before Bragg could reach shore he took cramp and drowned. He is said to have been an exceptionally good swimmer. Cramp was probably due to his having been in the water nearly all day seining.

—Burlington Correspondence, May 21: Thieves and robbers held high carnival here Saturday and Sunday nights Some one entered, through the store room of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, the meat market of J. S. Miles and robbed the cash drawer to the amount of several dollars Saturday night. Nothing else was taken there. Sunday night Mr. Will Anthony, walking on the street in East Burlington, was struck on the back of the head by an unknown party, knocked unconscious and robbed of all the money he had in his pockets, amounting to $7.50. The same night Mr. Will Fox had a racycle stolen from the porch at his home. There is no clue to any of the guilty parties.

—Burlington Dispatch, May 21: Our people were very much excited today over the finding yesterday afternoon late of the body of a baby in a branch south of town. Several small boys were in bathing, when they ran against a tow bag tied up with something in it. Upon taking it out it was found to contain the body of a girl baby. The coroner held an inquest over the body. It was a well developed child, weighing 10 pounds. The body seemed to have been in the water a week or 10 days. The jury decided that the child had been killed, as its head was terribly crushed, and the body thrown in the water. There is positively no clue nor evidence to find the guilty party, but everything possible will be done to find the person who committed the crime.

Roanoke, Va., Special, May 21: Thomas A. Edison arrived here in an automobile today en route to Lincolnton, N. C. He announced that, after a search of two years by a number of prospectors working for him in the mountain counties of North Carolina the rare metal cobalt, with which he will be able to rebate the weight of his new battery 50 per cent. has been found and he is much encouraged. Cobalt heretofore has only been found in Germany and what little Edison has used has been imported. It has lately been found in the following North Carolina counties: Mitchell, Wake, Jackson, Clay, Catawba, Lincoln and Gaston. There are five persons in the Edison party and they are traveling in two machines. They left Orange, N. J., last Wednesday. Edison declares cobalt will revolutionize automobiling by reducing the weight of the battery 50 per cent.

—Charlotte Observer, May 22: The State Medical Society meets in Charlotte next week. The indications are that this meeting will be the biggest in the history of the society. More than 600 of the most prominent North Carolina physicians will attend. Preparations have been made to entertain the delegates in lavish style. The banquet alone will cost over $2,000. One of the most interesting questions that will be presented will be that of insurance examination fees. For years past the New York Life, the Penn Mutual Life and a number of other insurance companies have been operating under what is known as a graded schedule of fees, allowing $3 for policies from $1,000 to $3,000; $5 for policies from $3,000 to $5,000, and so on, the fees being proportionate to the size of the policy. The State physicians, that is a big majority of them, maintain that they should receive $5 as a minimum charge. The doctors maintain that the examination is worth $5. They say that where they are called in to pass judgment upon a risk involving one or more thousands of dollars to the insurance companies, that their professional services should be and are worth more than the $3 which they now receive.

—Warrenton Special, May 21: Mrs. Mary Green, one of the most remarkable women who ever lived in Warrenton died at her home in this place Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Green was the daughter of Benjamin E. and Sallie Marshall Cook. Her father was for 45 years clerk of the court of Warren county. Mrs. Green was for forty years postmaster in Warrenton, having received her appointment from President Johnson, in 1866, and served continuously under every administration until the time of her death. She was a most excellent officer and was regarded by postoffice authorities as one of the best in the service. Nothing ever went wrong in her office. She took the office at the earnest solicitation of the late Joseph B. Batchelor and other prominent citizens of the place; and the people of the community petitioned for reappointment under every administration. She was a woman of sterling worth, springhtly manners, sparkling wit, and friendship. She received injuries from a fall ten and a half months ago from which she never recovered. For weeks she kept herself alive by her unconquerable will, but yesterday morning she yielded up her spirit to God and passed away from earth after a long and useful life, in the 85th year of her age.

Nothing spoils a good disposition,
Nothing taxes a man's patience,
Like any itchiness of the skin.
Itching Piles almost drive you crazy.
All day it makes you miserable,
All night it keeps you awake.
Itch! Itch! Itch! with no relief.
Just the same with Eczema.
Can hardly keep from scratching it.
You would do so, but you know it makes it worse.
Such miseries are daily decreasing.
People are learning they can be cured.
Learning the merit of Doan's Ointment.
Plenty of proof that Doan's Ointfent will cure Piles, Eczema or any Itchiness of the skin.
Read the testimony of a Wilmington citizen.

H. Cronenberg, Photographer, of 119 1-2 Market street, says: "I used Doan's Ointment and it did its work promptly and permanently. I had a rash all over me, and no one knows how I suffered. It was like being in the infernal region and I could get no relief. I did not dare scratch because that made it worse. I tried everything but only to be disappointed. Some one told me about Doan's Ointment and I procured a box at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. I went home and applied some of the ointment, and I can say it brought the first relief I had had for a ling time. I cannot only add that it is a preparation of great merit."

ORPHAN'S SINGING CLASS.

Very Poor Appreciation Shown of Really Excellent Concert.

It is to be regretted for more than one reason that only a small audience heard the really excellent concert given by the singing class from the Oxford Orphan's Home at the Boys' Brigade Armory last night. The concert was an artistic success and it is a sad commentary upon the people of Wilmington that in the largest city visited by this class of orphans on the present tour, there was the smallest audience to hear them and to benefit the worthy cause which they represent.

There are four boys and ten girls in the class and they are accompanied on the tour by Superintendent J. S. Burch and one of the lady teachers. Their songs and readings at the armory last night were away up beyond amateur productions and it is just as well to repeat that the people of Wilmington showed a very poor appreciation of what was offered and the cause which the children represent. The party will go to Southport to-day on the steamer Sea Gate, where they give a concert to-night under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge in that town.

HANOVER SEASIDE CLUB.

Question of Locating New House on Wrightsville—Meeting To-Night.

The contract for the handsome new club house which Hanover Seaside Club will erect on Wrightsville Beach, has been awarded to Messrs. Silvia & Skipper, and lumber is already being placed on the ground so that work on the structure may begin at once. There has grown up, however, a question as to whether the club house should be placed on the ocean side or on the Sound side of the railroad track, the lot recently purchased by the club being very narrow between the track and the ocean. Some think that the Sound side, while building there is unusual, would have many advantages, while others think the custom of building immediately on the ocean front should be followed. The Building Committee of the Club does not like to take the responsibility of building on either side where there is a difference of opinion among the members and to this end, has called a special meeting of the Club to be held at 8:30 o'clock to-night at Howard Relief Hall for finally settling the question of location so that the work may proceed at once. All members are urged to be present.

SLATER'S COMEDIANS PLEASING.

Strong Bill Last Night—Matinee and Night To-Day.

For the second night of its present engagement at the Academy, Slater's Comedians last night presented "Nobody's Fool," a quiet, refined, but very attractive comedy drama, and the presentation was made in exceeding clever fashion. The cast was a splendid one and worked faithfully and with success. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the performance and attested to that by frequent hearty applause. In fact, last night's production all in all was the equal of any seen at popular prices upon the Academy stage this season.

The specialties were different from those of the night before and were very enjoyable. The company has a splendid line of vaudeville acts.

A special matinee will be given this afternoon. "The Diamond Robbery," which scored heavily Monday night, will be repeated and the prices will be 10 and 20 cents. For to-night one of the brightest plays in the company's repertoire will be offered. It will be "Our Irish American Cousin," and will, no doubt, prove a strong drawing card.

HEPBURN BILL NOW WORTHLESS

That is View Taken in Terse Speech in House By Republican

COURT REVIEW KILLED IT

Congress Has Power to Authorize Rates to Be Fixed and Power to Prohibit Courts from Setting Rates Aside.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 22.—Reference was made in the House to-day to the long, and at times wearying debate in the Senate on the railroad rate bill. Mr. Jenkins, Republican, of Wisconsin, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, addressed that body on pending railroad rate legislation. He was listened to with great interest by both sides, applause following a number of his terse periods.

After considering the legal phases of the question, he proceeded to say that instead of making the bill constitutional by including court review, it would, in his opinion, make it absolutely valueless to confer upon the court the power to pass upon the reasonableness of the rate.

He contended that Congress has the right to fix the rate and he thought the better argument would be that the judicial power cannot interfere unless Congress so wills it.

"Reasonableness," said Mr. Jenkins, "is an elastic relative term. The carrier initiates the rate. The dissatisfied shipper appeals to the Commission fixes the rate, the dissatisfied carrier appeals to the court. Exclude the question of costs and delay, both important to the shopper, and the absolute worthlessness of the legislation will appear, when the people discover that inter-State rates cannot be fixed upon a reasonable basis subject to court review.

"The people are not going to be quieted or abate their interest in this matter. They are thoroughly aroused and in earnest. The servant of the people who fails or refuses to do his duty and come to the relief of the people will be lost in the current of disapproval and will never be found or again returned. I deny that demigogues have brought about this condition of affairs. The carrier alone is responsible, absolute defiance of law, selfishness and utter disregard of the rights of the people have marked their course." (Applause).

The House to-morrow will be given opportunity to vote for a resolution from the committee on rules to send the railroad rate bill to conference. The resolution was introduced Just before the House adjourned to-day by Representative Hepburn, chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, and provides that upon its adoption. "It shall be in order to move to non-cur in gross in the Senate amendments to House Bill 12,987 (the railroad rate bill) and ask for a committee of conference on the disagreeing vote of the two houses; and the House shall, without further delay proceed to vote upon said motion and if the said motion prevail, a committee of conference shall be appointed without instructions."

Under the terms of this special rule, the House will not be given opportunity to vote on a motion to accept any one of the Senate amendments, or do otherwise than support or object to a motion to non-concur to them "in gross."

PROFESSOR HANNA DIES SUDDENLY

Had Been Assayer at United States Mint in Charlotte for Thirty-Seven Years.

(Charlotte Observer, May 22.)

Prof. George Byron Hanna died suddenly of appoplexy in the melting room of the United States mint on West Trade street yesterday morning a few minutes before 9 o'clock. The body was discovered by the colored boy employed about the place at 9:40 o'clock. It was then lying forward on the floor, cold and stiff in death. There was nothing to indicate any struggle. The end had come suddenly and without pain.

Prof. Hanna entered the mint, of which he had been assistant assayer for 37 years, early yesterday morning He went to the laboratory in the rear, removed his coat and cuffs and began work. He remained there for perhaps an hour and then went into the melting room, the door of which he locked on entering, suspected nothing amiss until about 9:20 o'clock. About 8:40 o'clock, two men called to make a deposit of gold. He made out the necessary papers and then called for Prof. Hanna. Receiving no response, he went into the laboratory to find him. He saw his coat and cuffs and knew that Prof. Hanna was somewhere in the building. With the colored boy, Mr. Pope went in the melting room, the door of which was found to be locked. Receiving no response, he ordered the boy to climb in the window and find out the trouble. A few minutes later the boy returned, saying that Prof. Hanna was lying on the floor. A physician was summoned at once, but there was no possibility of recovery. The body was cold and stiff and the face blue. Death had resulted probably 45 minutes before. The body was removed to the home on Tenth avenue, where all the arrangements for the funeral were made.

Prof. Hanna was born in Hollbrook, Mass., October 10, 1835. After completing his collegiate education, he taught for several years, later entering the School of Mines, a department of Columbia University, New York. He graduated there and immediately removed South, to Charlotte. Soon after his arrival here, he was appointed assistant assayer of the Charlotte mint, which office was then in charge of Mr. Calvin J. Cowles. He entered upon his duties March 8, 1870.

Prof. Hanna was twice married. On December 23, 1879, he was wedded to Miss Nina Trotter. She died October 6, 1894. Five years later Prof. Hanna married Miss Nola Alexander, a daughter of Dr. A. W. Alexander, of Charlotte, who survives him. Besides his widow, one brother remains.

In the death of Prof. Hanna, Charlotte has lost one of her truest and best citizens. He was at all times active in promoting the best interests of the city. He always manifested a lively interest in the affairs of young men, and was ready to assist them in any way and at any time. When the first Young Men's Christian Association was established in Charlotte, Prof. Hanna pjoined within two weeks after it had started in November, 1874. In 1876 he was elected president of the association, which office he has filled most acceptably ever since. When a well-known Charlotte citizen was told of Prof. Hanna's death yesterday he remarked feelingly: "He was the best friend the Charlotte Young Men's Christian Association ever had."' And he voiced the sentiment of every member of the local institution.

Prof. Hanna was an influential member of the First Presbyterian church. He was a man without guile; his heart was full of the milk of human kindness; his life was as gentle as the summer breeze. He bore no malice in his heart, and he loved and was loved by young and old, white and black.

As a mark of honor to the deceased, the rooms of the local Y. M. C. A. were closed last evening and will not be opened until after the funeral this afternoon. A memorial service will be held in the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon.

FREAK MARRIAGE OF MILLIONAIRE

Son of Aristocratic Pittsburg Family Weds the French Governess—May Be Disinherited.

(Baltimore Sun.)

Pittsburg, May 21.—Although a few intimates had known of the marriage of John Alston Moorehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morehead, Jr., and his mother's French governess, the story which became public to-day caused a decided sensation in the fashionable Alleghaney, Sewickley Heights and East End sets.

The young man comes of one of the most prominent families in this vicinity and has been especially well known among the frequenters of the fashionable country clubs. He is a recent graduate of Yale and has had the reputation of being a "sporty boy."

No statement could be secured from the Moorehead family, who have adopted the attitude of almost ignoring the marriage. It is said by those intimate with the young man's parents that they will be loth to forgive and forget and that he may be called on to "hoe his own row."

John Alston Morehead is not the first of his family to make a match against the wishes of his family. Past generations saw one or two which were not altogether congenial, although they "turned out well," while a cousin married a telephone girl some years ago, much to the disgust of his aristocratic relatives. The present offender against the family wishes has been a rather wild lad.

The founder of the Morehead family in the vicinity, Gen. J. K. Morehead, was very promient in the opening of the Monongahela river to navigation and gained the nickname of "Old Slackwater" thereby.

Besides his river interest, he was identified with the iron business and became very rich. Some years ago the iron mills were disposed of to the United States Steel Corporation. Young Moorehead's father, Jno. Moorehead, Jr., is perhaps best known in Pittsburg as a golfer. He was the first man to bring the aristocratic name to this busy city.

The Moorehead family has been prominent in society for a number of years. Mrs. Holland, wife of Dr. William J. Holland, the famous entomologist and director of the Carnegie Museum, was a Miss Moorehead.

It is said here that when young Moorehead went to a New York hotel with his bride he was refused a room until he explained that he was married to the lady.

BUFFALO LITHIA WATER

"All the Argument Necessary."

The International Journal of Surgery, August, 1905, under the heading "CYSTITIS" says: "In the treatment of Cystitis water is the great aid to all forms of medication. Moreover, BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is the ideal form in which to administer it to the cystitic patient, as it is not only a pure solvent, but has the additional virtue of containing substantial quantities of the alkaline Lithates. Patients should be encouraged to take from two to four quarts per day if they can, and the relief they will obtain will be all the argument necessary after the first day or so.

"IN URIC ACID DIATHESIS, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, LITHAEMIA, and the like, ITS ACTION IS PROMPT AND LASTING."

Dr. Geo. Ben. Johnston, M. D., LL. D., Richmond, Va., Ex-President Southern Surgical and Gynecological Assn., Ex-President Virginia Medical Society, and Prof. of Gynecology and Abdominal Surgery, Medical College of Virginia: "If I were asked what mineral water has the widest range of usefulness, I would unhesitatingly answer, BUFFALO LITHIA WATER In Uric Acid Diathesis, Gout, Rheumatism, Lithaemia, and the like, its action is prompt and lasting. * * * Almost any case of Pyelitis and Cystitis will be alleviated by it, and many cured. I have had evidence of the undoubted Disintegrating, Solvent and Eliminating power of this water in Renal Calculus, and have known its long continued use to permanently break up the gravel forming habit."

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, May 22.—The cotton market was steadier to-day and closed at a net advance of 5 to 8 points. Sales for the day were estimated at about 175,000 bales. The opening was quiet at unchanged prices to an advance one point on covering which was promoted by reports that between 5,000 and 10,000 bales of the local stock had been destroyed in a warehouse fire on Monday night. At first there was some apprehension that this cotton might have been sold again for delivery on May contracts and that its destruction would embarrass the short interest, but there was no indication of any such developments and the market eased off soon after the call in response to a bearish weather may and easier cables. Some of the local professionals sold quite heavily in an evident effort to catch stop loss orders, but after July had declined to 11.05 and October 10.50, the market was steadier by covering and in the afternoon developed quite a firm tone owing to a less favorable weekly bureau report than expected. The close was within a point or two of the best and steadied on covering of shorts and a little fresh buying for long account. The weekly bureau reported that rain is needed in the belt, the influence of this being counteracted to some extent by the fact that rains were shown on this morning's map, with the forecast calling for further showers. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8c. lower.

Receipts at the ports to-day 16,928 bales against 13,966 last year and 23,114 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans, 5,005 bales against 4,606 last year and at Houston, 3,828 bales against 6,912 last year.

STRANGE STORY OF MURDERESS

Italian Girl Says Voice Told Her to Kill Uncle and Aunt

DROVE HER TO DESPERATION

Horrible Treatment of Child—Would Not Let Her Go to Church or School—Made Slave of Her. —Horrible Treatment.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

New York, May 22.—Josephine Terranova today took the witness stand in her own behalf at her trial on the charge of having murdered her aunt.

The defendant said that she came to this country when 8 years old, going to live with her uncle and aunt, the Regios.

"I didn't go to church or school," she said, "for seven years after coming to America. Uncle and aunt would not let me. I wanted to go. I did everything, washing, scrubbing, every thing, and sometimes there were ten, eleven, sixteen boarders in the house."

"Do you remember one Winter morning when you were about 11 and a half years old," she was asked.

The girl replied that she did, that her aunt had taken her to the uncle's room that day.

"That is what I am on trial here about," she added.

As the girl told of her uncle's treatment a woman spectator fainted. The girl hesitated in giving her testimony, saying that she was ashamed to speak of it.

She said that her aunt had forced her to obey her uncle and had beaten her, breaking a stick during one of the whippings and making the witness so sick that she went to bed. The girl said she was never permitted to play with other children and was forbidden to talk English or associate with the boarders in the house. She said she wanted to go to her mother but was not permitted to.

The witness said that her husband was led to suspect what her relations with her uncle had been, because of a remark which the latter made. She declared that her uncle's mistreatment covered a period of about six years and that it continued up to and including the night after her evil marriage to Terranova. She told of the circumstances which led her to kill her uncle, Gaetano, and her aunt, Concetta. She said that her husband, after listening to her confession, told her that she was no longer his wife and thereupon left her. She remained alone during the following ten days, subject she said, to the influence of hallucinations in which her uncle appeared. Whenever he apeared a voice said: "Kill him." Each night, the witness continued, she would dream or imagine that she was in the presence of God and there again she would hear the words "kill your uncle."

At the end of ten days, the girl said, she went to her mother's house and was turned away. Then the mysterious voices became more insistent and their directions more pointed, telling her to buy a knife and a revolver and kill. When armed and on her way to their house for this purpose, she said she had crossed herself three times and prayed to know whether she was doing right. She confronted her uncle, calling him "traitor" and he replied, "You are an outcast."

She remembered little of her attack but asserted that she began to stab, when her aunt came between her and Gaetano. She did not remember which one she struck first.

Under cross examination the witness said she had been unable to run away from her uncle's treatment, as she desired to. Her aunt, she said, had told that there was no harm in relations with her uncle.

Justice Scott, who is hearing the case, questioned the girl about the voices she claimed to have heard and she told him that they came like a ring in the ears. The trial was adjourned until tomorrow.

MECKLENBURG CELEBRATION.

Fifteen Thousand See Military Parades—Speech by Gov. Glenn.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Charlotte, N. C., May 22.—Probably the largest crowd which ever visited this city in the hundred and fifty years or more of its existence was here today to join in celebrating the 31st anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. It was estimated that 15,000 people were at the fair grounds to witness the drilling of the United States troops, marines and cavalry, and enjoy the music of the marine band.

A long parade of soldiers, Confederate veterans and prominent citizens was held in the morning, after which an address was delivered by Governor Glenn to the veterans.

Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, will to-morrow deliver an address on the United States of America in the 20th century. An address also will be made by Representative E. Y. Webb, of this district.

FREIGHT RATES IN IOWA COURT

Judge McPherson Decides That Government Has Jurisdic- Over Exports

HEAVY BLOW TO RAILROAD

Burlington Railway and Other Roads Must Stand Trial for Accepting or Giving Rebates—No Secret Rate Permissible.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Kansas City, May 22.—The demurrer of the Burlington Railway, denying the jurisdiction of the government in export freight rates, was overruled in the United States court here today by Judge Smith McPherson, of Iowa. The decision is of great importance to shipping interests of all sections of the country and of particular weight at present, because it tends to destroy the contention of the railways that export rates need not be made public.

It means, too, that the Burlington Railway and the other railroads, corporations and persons indicted here in December, must stand trial on the charge of accepting rebates. The trial of the Burlington was set for May 31.

Attention was drawn to the report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, December 14, 1905, in which it was said that "It was a mooted question whether the present act requires carriers to file and maintain tariffs under which they transport exports and imports, but the Commission has a number of times decided that the statutes covered this point.

"The same section," the decision says, "finds the same kind of commerce included by the act and includes from the United States to a foreign country." The fact that half a million of dollars worth of exports are shipped from the United States is a powerful argument in favor of the proposition that they should not be hampered with rate traiffs difficult or impossible to observe because ocean rates vary from day to day. But is this an argument that can persuade the courts upon the question of what construction shall be given a statute if such statute is valid?"

The statute, Judge McPherson says, forbids lowering the rates except on three days' notice and forbids raising them, except on ten days' notice. "It is clear," he continues, "that carriers by railways and water inland, when acting under a common agreement, are covered by the statutes, as well as commerce by any method with an adjacent foreign country. And as to inter-State commerce, it is included. Because these are specifically enumerated, it is contended that all others are excluded. Conceding the force of this elementary and recognized rule of construction, there, in my opinion, is the error of the entire argument of defendants' counsel. Congress did not enumerate ocean commerce because it would have been frivolous to do so."

Judge McPherson says full force can be given to the statute only by enforcing it on shipments to New York and then transferring the merchandise to vessels, when of course, it passes from the jurisdiction.

"And it seems to me," he says in conclusion, "that when this is done it can be under an established rate, proclaimed by a published and posted traiff rate."

SENATOR BURTON MAY LOSE HIS SEAT IN SENATE

COMMITTEE ON PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS TO INQUIRE WHETHER HE SHALL BE EXPELLED—DEMOCRATIS LEADED WILLIAMS AGAIN OBSTRUCTS LEGISLATION IN HOUSE.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 22.—The Senate devoted the greater part of today's session to consideration of the immigration bill, but before it was taken up Senator McCumber made a personal statement contradicting an article printed in the New York Tribune to the effect that the railroad rate bill had been so amended at his instance as to render it ineffective. Previous to that time also the Senate adopted a resolution directing the committee on privileges and elections to consider the course to be pursued in the case of Senator Burton. Speeches on the immigration bill were made by Senators Dillingham, McCreary, Bacon, Scott, Patterson and others. The bill was still under consideration when the Senate adjourned.

The Burton resolution was offered by Senator Hale and read as follows:

"Resolved, That the committee on privileges and elections be directed to examine into the legal effect of the late decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Joseph R. Burton, a Senator from Kansas, and as soon as may be done to report their recommendations as to what action, if any, shall be taken by the Senate."

The resolution was adopted without debate.

The House.

Washington, May 22.—From an hour or more to-day the House of representatives could not decide whether to go into committee of whole on the diplomatic consular bill, or to follow the lead of Mr. Gardner, of Massachusetts, and take up consideration of the immigration bill.

Assisted by Mr. Williams, the minority leader, Mr. Gardner, led a mild filibuster against taking up the consular bill and endeavored to delay matters by raising a number of parliamentary questions. Speeches were made on a variety of subjects, the speakers including Mr. Jenkins, of Wisconsin, on the rate bill; Mr. Randell, of Texas, who arraigned the "House machine;" Mr. Bannon, of Ohio, who urged retention of the tariff on raw hides; Mr. Goulden, of New York, who opposed the ship subsidy bill; and Mr. Maynard, of Virginia, who spoke in favor of the appropriation for the Jamestown Exposition.

Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader, continuing the tactics decided upon by the Democrats to hasten a report of the conference committee on statehood, demanded the yeas and nays in the House of Representatives to-day on the motion of Mr. Littauer, of New York, to go into the committee of the whole on the urgent deficiency bill.

The vote showed a quorum—yeas, 194; nays, 13; present, 24.

Mr. Williams continuing his obstructive tactics, demanded the yeas and nays on the final passage of the bill.

The bill was passed, yeas 159, nays, 49.

Mr. Williams explained to the House that the flippant manner in which the papers spoke about the Speaker's way of counting a quorum was not to his liking. "Far be it from me," he said, "to think that there was not a quorum present when the Speaker announced a quorum after one of his characteristic counts." He appreciated the picturesqueness of the situation, but the counting of a quorum was a serious business and the constitution provided that a majority of both Houses must be present to do business. He wanted the country to know that while the members "were only boys grown tall," that legislation was proceeding in an orderly and a dignified manner.

SCATHING SPEECH BY CONGRESSMAN RANDELL

REPRESENTATIVE TELLS REPUBLICAN STAND PAT MACHINE OF ITS HYPOCRITICAL PRETENCE AND RECORD—G. O. P.'S ATTITUDE TOWARDS TERRITORIES AN OUTRAGE.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Washington, May 22.—The so-called Republican "machine" was the subject of a scathing denunciation in the House of Representatives today at the hands of Mr. Randell, of Texas, who said that the leaders of the House who constitute and run the "machine" had done absolutely nothing except to make hypocritical pretense as to some things and to unblushingly advocate the "stand pat" doctrine in other things.

"The completeness with which the Republican party has deserted the people's interests is aparent in its treatment of every vital question before the Congress," said Mr. Randell.

He was of the opinion that the concentration of wealth, so great in amount as to stagger the comprehension of human intellect, was a greater menace to free government than all the armed hosts of its enemies. He said the attitude of the Republican party toward the territories is another proof that it is unworthy to rule.

"The sisterhood of States," he said, "should make common cause in rebuking the cruel and outrageous crime committed by the Republican party. Impelled by fear the machine may yet admit one State; but the people will understand the motive and should not stay the hand of retribution.

"These machine leaders have been and are deceiving the great mass of voters who put them in power. The rank and file of the Republican party wants justice and if only they would examine the record of their representatives the avenging hand of an outraged constituency would strike down these standpat statesmen and have a new deal as well as a square one."

NO NEGRO BLOOD IN VEINS.

Decision of North Carolina Supreme Court In Asheville Case.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Asheville, N. C., May 22.—A special to the Citizen from Raleigh, N. C., says:

The Supreme Court today handed down an opinion in the case of the apeal of the Buncombe county board of education from the ruling of the Superior Court in the Gilliland case, involving the right of children of the plaintiff to attend the white public schools, the board having excluded them on the ground that they had a strain of negro blood in the veins. The defense was that the ancestry was Portugece.

Associate Justice Hoke, writing the opinion, says:

"While the defendants have no doubt acted throughout from conscientious purposes to do their full duty in the premises and while the exigences of the case may have made it desirable and perhaps necessary to bring the matter before the jury for decision, we deem it not improper to say that we have examined the records in which the entire testimoy is set down and are of the opinion that hte jury have rendered a righteous verdict that the truth of the matter has been established, that is, that there is no negro blood in the plaintiffs and that they are entitled to attend the white schools."

THE DANGERS TO TRAVELERS

Liability to Infection on Railroad Sleeping Cars and Passenger Coaches

THE DRINKING GLASS PERIL

Every Person Who Goes on Trains Should Carry His Own Glass—Plan to Secure Better Sanitation in Travel.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 22.—The dangers of infection incident to travel on railroads and the proper methods of sanitation occupied the attention of the National conference of State and Provincial Boards of Health to-day at its meeting. Dr. Milton J. Bosenau, of the United States public health and marine hospital service, declared that the dangers of contact with the sleeping car or coach and their furnishings were not quite as great now as they once were although he said such danger did at all times exist. He particularly inveighed against the wash basins in sleeping cars as well as drinking glasses. He thought that some system of running water should be adopted and that the trayelling public should carry their own drinking utensils.

He regarded as vital the question of the likelihood of spreading disease along the line of travel through the train lavatories and believed that the subject was one demanding prompt and serious consideration.

Dr. T. R. Crowder, superintendent of sanitation of the Pullman company, explained the system of disinfection and sanitation of that company, the conference appointed a committee of three to confer with a committee of railroad sanitary officers with the view of formulating a plan more effectually to sanitize railroad coaches and sleepers. The committee was instructed to report at the next conference.

The conference came to a close by the election of the following officers:

President—Dr. C. D. Smith, Portland, Me.

Vice President—Dr. Joseph I. Porter, Key West.

Secretary—Dr. John S. Fulton, Baltimore.

Treasurer—Dr. J. A. Eagan, Springfield, Ills.

SEED QUESTION IN THE SENATE

House Agriculturial Appropriation Increased by Quarter Million Dollars

FREE SEED FOR FARMERS

Too Late to Cut It Out, But Only Rare Seeds to Be Distributed in Future—Money for Education.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 22.—The Agricultural appropriation bill was reported to the Senate to-day. It carries $7,715,000, an increase of $223,560 over the amount carried by the bill as it passed the House.

On the subject of free seeds the report says:

"It may be stated that a decided majority of the committee expressed themselves informally as opposed to the distribution of common seeds, as authorized by law for many years, but deemed it inadvisable at this session to recommend a change, believing that such could not now secure the desired result, but trust at the next session, a liberal appropriation for the distribution of rare and valuable seeds may take the place of the present very objectionable system."

An appropriation of $15,000 is made to establish at points of export to be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture, laboratories for the purpose of examining seeds and grains and fixing definite grades.

Provisoins is made that 10 per cent. of all money received from each forest reserve shall be paid to the State or territory in which the reserve is situated to be expended for public schools or public roads.

For nutrition investigations $20,000 is appropriated. This is to continue the investigations conducted at experiment stations and under the chief of the Bureau of Chemistry in order to produce more economical foods than are in common use.
